Enhancing Higher Education Through NAAC

NAAC Latest updates (October 2026):

- Binary Accreditation Framework (BAF): Replaces the legacy CGPA-based letter grades (A++, A+, B, etc.) with a simplified two-tier classification: "Accredited" or "Not Accredited". Basic accreditation is valid for 3 years.
- Maturity-Based Graded Levels (MBGL): For institutions looking to demonstrate excellence beyond basic accreditation, an optional Level 1 to Level 5 maturity system evaluates research quality, innovation, governance, and global competitiveness.
- Transition to 10 Attributes: The evaluation structure transitions from the traditional 7 criteria to 10 core attributes: Curriculum, Faculty Resources, Infrastructure, Financial Resources/Management, Learning and Teaching, Extended Curricular Engagements, Governance/Administration, Student Outcomes, Research/Innovation, and Sustainability/Green Initiatives.
- Outcome-Over-Input Focus: Assessment prioritizes tangible institutional outputs—such as commercially relevant patents, measurable student skill acquisition, and verified placement records—rather than heavy paperwork and compliance documentation.
- AI-Enabled and Digital Verification: The process relies more heavily on automated data validation, AI-assisted analytics, and cross-checking against integrated platforms like AISHE and NIRF, reducing manual friction and physical peer-team dependency.

IQAC: A Catalyst of Quality in Institution
